ALSBERG SUCCEEDS HARVEY W. WILEY

Biologist in Poisonous Plant Laboratory Said to Be President's Choice.

APPOINTMENT AFTER NOVEMBER ELECTION

New Chief Chemist Was Graduated by Columbia University, New York.

President Taft has finally decided upon a successor to Harvey W. Wiley as chief chemist of the Department of Agriculture and pure food expert. Carl L. Alsberg is the man who will be appointed to this important post by the President. The selection of Dr. Alsberg has not been announced formally as yet and will not be announced by the President until after election.

Mr. Taft has regarded the filling of the post formerly held by Dr. Wiley as one of the most important appointments that he has been called upon to make, and it has been only after a careful consideration of a wide field of candidates that the President has settled upon Dr. Alsberg.

Dr. Alsberg is now the chemical biologist in charge of the poisonous plant laboratory of the Bureau of Plant Industry in the Department of Agriculture. Dr. Alsberg is thirty-five years old and has a splendid reputation among scientists both in and out of the government service. He is a graduate of Columbia University and the College of Physicians and Surgeons. He also had a special course of training in chemistry and physiological chemistry in Germany.

At the same time he was the chemical investigator of the United States Bureau of Fisheries, his chief work there being in determining the food values of sea life. He was formerly secretary of the Boston Society of Medical Sciences, and is now a member of the Washington section of the American Chemical Society, and holds places of prominence in other scientific organizations.

Dr. Alsberg was highly recommended to President Taft by scientists throughout the country. Among others who endorsed him were Dr. David Starr Jordan, of Leland-Stanford University; George L. Sturtevant, professor of anatomy in the University of Michigan; Dr. Felix Adler, of New York; Edwin G. Conklin, professor of biology in Princeton University, and George A. Hubert, professor of physical chemistry in the same university.

Dr. Doolittle, who was assistant to Dr. Wiley while he was the government's pure food expert, has been in charge of the department since Dr. Wiley's resignation.

ROOSEVELT TO SUE PUBLISHER

Resents Charges of Drunkenness Made by Michigan Editor.

New York, Oct. 25.—Col. Roosevelt has instructed his counsel to begin criminal and civil libel suits against George S. Newett, publisher of the Iron Ore, a weekly newspaper printed in Ishpeming, Mich. The suits are based upon an article printed in this paper on October 12 headed "Roosevelt Way."

According to a formal statement made public at national Progressive headquarters to-day, this article contained the following paragraph: "Roosevelt lies and curses in a most disgusting way. He gets drunk too, and that not infrequently, and all his intimates know about it."

Judge James H. Pound, of Detroit, has been retained by Col. Roosevelt as his attorney. The monetary damages have been fixed at the nominal sum of $5,000, because, as the statement explains, "It is not a question of recovering money from Mr. Newett that is influencing Col. Roosevelt in the least in commencing these actions. They are brought because by the publication of this libel in his newspaper, Mr. Newett has furnished the first opportunity that Col. Roosevelt has had to have been able to find for the prompt and authoritative disproof of the charge that he is a drunkard."

It should be noted that there is no hope of bringing either of these actions to trial before election. The cases are not undertaken for any such purpose or with any such expectation. They are undertaken and will be pushed to final verdict because Col. Roosevelt is entitled to have and is determined to procure the complete and definite authority of a judicial determination that this outrageous charge against him is utterly without foundation in fact as it is cruel and unjust."

ACCUSED EDITOR IS PLACED UNDER ARREST

Marquette, Mich., Oct. 25.—George A. Newett, editor of the Ishpeming Iron Ore, who has been sued by Col. Theodore Roosevelt for criminal libel and damages of $5,000, was arrested here this afternoon. His bail was fixed at $5,000, and he is attempting to furnish bond. The arrest was on a capias.

Attorney James H. Pound, of Detroit, who is the Progressive candidate for Congress in the First Michigan District against Congressman Doremus, came here to-day and filed the papers in behalf of Col. Roosevelt in both actions.

Some person, to him unknown, Mr. MacPate reported to the police, motored away. Mr. MacPate said he was to make such a short visit last night that he left the "plug" in the electric batteries of the automobile. When he emerged upon the street from his mother-in-law's home the automobile was gone.

"There is nothing to the story," said Hitt. "We haven't been married and we don't intend to be."

Miss Elkins is spending a few weeks in West Virginia with her family.

JOHNSON SCANDAL BLAMED ON CUSTOMS

Southern Representatives Censure Northerners for Attitude on Negro Problem.

Northerners granting negroes social equality is the cause of the Jack Johnson scandal, according to views expressed by two Southern Representatives here yesterday.

"So long as Northerners mingle on social planes with negroes they will have Jack Johnson episodes with their white women," was the joint declaration of Representatives John B. Garner of Texas and William R. Smith of the same State. "Johnson would have been strung up—lynched—in five minutes in Texas if he had made his home there as he did in Chicago regarding white women," said Representative Smith.

"The Johnson affair could never have occurred in Texas or in any other Southern State," said Representative Garner, "because he would have been rushed to the penitentiary for what he has done in Chicago. A Texas law makes it a penitentiary offense for a negro to marry a white person. 'Jim laws' as Northerners call them, and drink and mingle on social planes with negroes they will have more Johnson episodes."

"Social equality granted negroes in the North is the whole cause of the Johnson mess. Laz laws, for which Northern white men are responsible, make such things possible in the North; they are impossible in the South."

"There is an unyielding line of separation of the races—no discrimination against the black race in the South," continued the Texas Representative. "We have many laws to keep this race line unyielding. 'Jim laws'—others keeping the races separate in schools, churches, and industrially. At the polls a negro must meet the same requirements to vote as the whites; also, vice versa. There is an educational voting test applying alike to both races—no discrimination against the negro. Segregation is merely self-protection. The negroes of the South are as firm in de-

MADE FOR RACE SEGREGATION AS THE WHITES. Mixture of the races pollutes both. Social equality is impossible.

PASSENGER JUMPS OVERBOARD.

French Line Steamer Reports Loss of Stowaway Man.

New York, Oct. 25.—The French line steamer, France, which arrived from Havre this afternoon reported heavy northeast gales during the early part of the voyage with very heavy seas. On October 23, Giovanni Pacoretta, aged thirty-four, a steerage passenger, jumped overboard and was lost. A life buoy was thrown after him and the steamer steamed about for half an hour, but no trace of him could be found.

The body of Mrs. Harriett Christman Reno, who died in Paris October 2, was on board. It was accompanied by her husband and daughter.

Among the passengers were Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Schwab, Clarence H. Mackay, Cortlandt Bishop, president of the Aero Club of America; Mrs. DuCharme Billard, of the Metropolitan Opera Company; Alexander Cassatt, Childs Frick, Miss Anne Morgan and her friend, Miss Marbury, and P. Van Valkenburg.

PROFIT NOT SO BIG

Morgan's Share Only $3,000,000, Net $12,000,000.

New York, Oct. 25.—The firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. received only $3,000,000, not $12,000,000 as reported, for its work in organizing the International Harvester Company, according to the testimony to-day of William Hamilton, Jr., of the Morgan firm, who appeared to-day at the government suit against the company.

Hamilton testified that the Morgan firm gave $12,000,000 to William C. Lane for 125,000 shares of the harvester stock which at that time was worth $16,500,000, a profit of $3,500,000 and the only profit Morgan got.

Cause of Famines.

Berlin, Oct. 25.—According to Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, meat famines are caused by the fast growth of cities. To the Diet to-day he stated that tariffs and taxes have nothing to do with the problem. He suggested that an encouragement of interest in farming might offer a solution.
